

Roundtable Symposium: Property investing in the age of climate change

Join us for a deep dive into climate-related physical and transition risks faced by the real estate sector.

Leading real estate companies and climate risk experts will share their experiences identifying, managing, and planning for a resilient future amongst a changing natural and regulatory environment. We explore how leading investors see opportunities to flip the dialogue and turn these risks into long-term investment advantages with powerful positive impacts.

Programme

15:00-15:15	Welcome
15:15-15:20	Kick off	Andrea Palmer Founder of Net Impact Amsterdam
15:20-15:30	Breaking the ice A photo journey into the climate reality: Expedition Greenland	Sarah Nicholls Senior Director of Global Sustainability, JLL World Economic Forum Young Leader
15:30-16:10	Panel discussion Physical climate risks: How are investors effectively positioning their portfolios for the unknown and transparently disclosing this?	Leonie Chatain Four Twenty Seven Lucy Matchett Hillbreak Name To be announced! Luc van de Boom Net Impact Amsterdam (Moderator)
16:10-16:30	Coffee break
16:30-16:40	Presentation An introduction to the EU's Carbon Risk Real Estate Monitoring (CRREM) tool to align the sector with the Paris Agreement.	Rik Recourt Real Estate Associate, GRESB / Member of CRREM Steering Committee
16:40-17:20	Panel discussion Real estate transition response: How should investors prepare for future energetic retrofit requirements?	Martin Mooij Dutch Green Building Council Rik Recourt GRESB / CRREM Name To be announced! Andrea Palmer Net Impact Amsterdam (Moderator)
17:20-18:30	Borrel	